

Rebecca Hoot Crafty Pajama Party

Welcome to the first ever Rebecca Hoot Pajama Party!! I am so excited you will be joining. I REALLY wanted an excuse to have a CRAFT ALL Night in your PAJAMAS kind of Party!! Here is what I am envisioning... We put on our PJ's, set out all our favorite snacks, pick our favorite entertainment (movies, YouTube videos, or music) and CREATE the night away! Every TWO hours starting Saturday, August 28 at 2pm, there will be a short 15 minute video available on YouTube, to check in and do a quick little project. My goal is to use some of the supplies that I don't always play with and get caught up in my journals.. So for now, let's shop our stash and pick project(s) we want to create with! Don't forget to invite your inner child to the PJ Party! Does anyone have any funny stories from past slumber parties? Is there a story you can add to your journal... oh believe me! I have several and one if particular I'm still teased about. If NOT then let's create new memories starting with this party!

Here is the schedule breakdown:

- Friday, August 27, 2021: Intro with Printables for the Pajama Party, these will be available on the blog.
- Saturday, August 28th
- ♥ 12pm: Welcoming Comments, Party Set-up, sneak peek into my snacks, creative space and movies we will be watching
- ♥ 2pm: Let the party begin!- In the first video I will be demonstrating how I will be making embossed stamps to use when Journaling. I plan to make several up so I have them ready to go!
- ♥ 4pm: Tag Clusters: : I have been dying to create some mixed media tags! I'll get getting messy and adding all the supplies to these fun little
- ♥ 6pm:- Magazine Clippings: I love using clippings in my journals but NEVER take the time to cut and organize them. What better way than at a Pajama Party. I'll show you the way I like to organize them for a quick find.
- ♥ 8pm: Fall Bucket List: I want to add my Bucket List to my mini sunflower journal I recently created.
- ♥ 10pm:- Mini Journal Spots: With autumn right around the corner, I'm wanting to make up these to clip in my journal and use up ephemera pieces.
- ♥ Midnight: It's a wrap! Thanks for joining in on the fun and hope you got LOTS of projects worked on!

Happy Creating, Rebecca
